

DISCOVERSD.COM

5 yummy dessert date spots in San Diego

By Amber Mesker 6 A.M. OCT. 22, 2015

Dessert date spots

When it comes to dating, why not skip dinner and go straight for the best part — dessert. In San Diego there are plenty of options for couples with a sweet tooth. From ice cream sandwiches to banana cream pie, these top spots offer great options for dessert, before the real dessert (if you know what we mean).

Extraordinary Desserts

This place is exactly what it claims — extraordinary. With locations in both Little Italy and near Balboa Park, Extraordinary Desserts is the perfect place for your fourth meal. Both locations are quaint, romantic and ready for you to devour lavish cakes, tortes, pastries and ice creams. They also serve delicious panini sandwiches, salads and cheeses — if for some reason you didn't bring your sweet tooth.

D Bar

If you and your date just happen to be leaving a movie in Hillcrest, do yourself a favor and walk across the street to D Bar. The atmosphere is trendy yet low key. From churros and creme brulee to molten cake and bon bons, this dessert bar has it all. Wash it all down with some milk and cookies and call it a night.

iDessert

If you want to impress your date and take a trip to the future, check out iDessert in Little Italy. This unique and innovative dessert spot gives you and your date the freedom to customize your own dessert, sundaes and milkshakes from iPad stations. They also offer gourmet coffee drinks, teas, biscotti and candies.

Baked Bear

You had a nice long romantic walk along the water in Pacific Beach and now you're both starving. Lucky for you, the original Baked Bear is right around the corner. Get ready to enjoy and devour the best and biggest ice cream sandwiches in San Diego. As if that wasn't enough, they also offer doughnut sandwiches as well. If you're not in PB, don't worry Baked Bear has more than one location.

Betty's Pie Whole Saloon

There is nothing more romantic than stuffing your face and sharing a whole pie with the one you love. The place to get your pie on should be Betty's Pie Whole Saloon in Encinitas. From savory pies, such as meatball and chicken, to sweet pies, such as lemon and coconut, this will keep your pie hole happy for a long time.

